ANNOUNCEMENTS AND PRESENTATIONS:

Director Valarie Frost began her remarks by announcing that in the interest of public health, and because of the continued increase in COVID-19 cases region wide, City Hall was closed to the public for in-person visits. Ms. Frost stated that city services were still available by contacting city staff via phone, email or internet forms. It was said that according to the COVID-19 case summary report on the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health's website, there have been 5,381 cases of the coronavirus in Lakewood and 33 deaths of residents in the Lakewood community. Ms. Frost mentioned that in regards to the vaccine and inoculation of residents, staff have been informed by county and state health officials that they are working out plans to get dentist offices, pharmacies, and the National Guard involved in delivering the vaccine shots. It was said that the governor had recently announced that adults 65 and older were eligible to be vaccinated. Information regarding how residents can register to get vaccinated, and where vaccines are being made available, will be communicated to the public once the city is notified.

Ms. Frost reported that at a recent city council meeting, the City Manager brought forth to the Council a report on the California Voting Rights Act. She noted that the city currently elects its council members through an at-large election system in which each council member can reside anywhere in the city and are selected by voters of the entire city to provide city-wide representation. She shared that on November 30, 2020 the city received a letter challenging the city's current election method, asserting that the city's at-large election system violates the California Voting Rights Act. In response to this potential litigation, the council approved staff's recommendation to adopt a proposed resolution declaring its intention to transition from at-large to by-district city council elections and to authorize the mayor to sign an agreement with National Demographics Corporation to draft maps of proposed boundaries for those districts. Voting by district would begin with the election in March of 2022.

Next, Ms. Frost informed the commission that RCS had several personnel changes. First, she shared that Lisa Dalmatoff began as the department's newest Administrative Clerk on January 11. Lisa fills the vacancy created by Elizabeth Loera's promotion to the Public Safety Department. Additionally, she shared that department staff had recently completed the recruitment process to fill the position of Community Transportation Supervisor. It was said that after the completion of reference checks and other pre-employment qualification requirements, the new supervisor would start by February 8. Ms. Frost mentioned that staff was finalizing the recruitment announcement for the position of Community Services Supervisor to oversee The Centre operations. This vacancy, she noted, was created by the passing of RCS' beloved friend and colleague Gay Givens.

Lastly, Ms. Frost provided the commission with an update regarding the last commission meeting, where several members of the public attended and voiced concerns regarding Home Run Dog Park. She shared that staff was finalizing a survey of neighboring cities who also have dog parks, regarding their facility rules, regulations and policies. She added that staff was also consulting with Southeast Area Animal Control Authority (SEACCA), the city's animal control authority, to reconfirm their recommendations as it relates to having both a small and large dog park, and the enforcement of such in that regard. She shared that it was staff's hope to be able to have a response to the public by early February, and mentioned the commission would be provided with an update at that time.

Commissioner Ted Spaseff shared that he had the opportunity to work a shift at the Project Shepherd warehouse. He mentioned it was a very smooth operation and commended Community Services Supervisor Kelly Garnetti for her organization and leadership. He added that on his walk by the Burns Community Center, he witnessed the smooth operation of the meal delivery service. He commended Community Services Supervisor Caitlin Carioso for a job well done.

It was said that throughout the spring catalog, was an assortment of virtual classes and in-person outdoor dance and fitness classes, which were allowed by the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health (Public Health).

She mentioned that the trend has continued into 2021 beginning with the cancellation of Volunteer Day, which is typically held in April. It was said that if trends surrounding the virus change, especially given the dissemination of a vaccine, staff would determine if the valued community event could be reinstated at a later date.

Next, Ms. Hitt announced that Lakewood's oldest community event, the Pan Am Fiesta, scheduled for Mother's Day weekend, was also predicted to be canceled for 2021. She informed the commission that if the traditional event does not happen as scheduled, a virtual Pan Am experience on the city's website would be provided for the community to enjoy, as similarly offered in 2020. Ms. Hitt reported that FUN-Tastic Family Nights continue to be a popular family activity, offering engaging entertainment for everyone to enjoy. She shared that four virtual events were scheduled for the spring.

Concerning park programs, Ms. Hitt shared that if Public Health regulations allow, staff were prepared to offer spring vacation activities at city parks during spring recess from school, taking place April 5-9.

Concerning travel programs, Ms. Hitt reported that until venues are allowed to reopen and day trips can return, the department is providing participants with links to Southern California venues providing free or low cost virtual experiences with online tours, educational programming, online performances, interviews and many other unique opportunities.

With regards to older adult and Active+ programming, Ms. Hitt shared that in order to maintain the safety and health of Lakewood's senior population, senior recreational activities during the spring would continue to be limited. She noted that the in-person fitness classes, including step aerobics, stretching, walking club, and chair volleyball, were not available. As a result, she shared that the two fitness instructors had recorded aerobics classes and posted them on the Virtual Recreation page on the city's website. It was said that the competitive pickleball group, which normally attracts over 100 members, was allowed to reopen on Wednesday, June 10 following state and county guidelines, and attracted a small but regular group of participants. Ms. Hitt mentioned that this activity was required to close due to the updated Public Health Order on November 30, however, she shared that it is assumed that it will be one of the first activities to reopen once it is considered safe to do so. It was said that educational and social events, were still not allowed.

Next, Ms. Hitt reported that daily activities at the Weingart Senior Center normally include a variety of classes that keep older adults interested and engaged, however, the Weingart Senior Center is closed until Public Health guidelines allow for reopening. It was said that most activities were canceled, including the fitness room, staff-led fitness and dance classes, arts and crafts classes, and all seminars.
